Description and Remarks

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON:

Date of ^{Oct.} ~~Oct.~~ 1940

var, scenes of blackbirds that land on the backs of grazing sheep--the sheep pick up seeds in their wool and the seed stick to the wool so the blackbirds found that they do not have to work for their food that way and the sheep don't seem to mind at all--we have no actual scene breakdown--just general grab shots of these funny old parasites-----there are some scenes of geese with this material, too, I believe---please check----- (NOTE: Geese were for another story but believe were filed with this material---)-----

KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON:

Date of Entry
Oct. 1940

var, scenes of blackbirds that land on the backs of grazing sheep--the sheep pick up seeds in their wool and the seed stick to the wool so the blackbirds found that they do not have to work for their food that way and the sheep don't seem to mind at all--we have no actual scene breakdown--just general grab shots of these funny old parasites-----there are some scenes of geese with this material, too, I believe---please check----- (NOTE: Geese were for another story but believe were filed with this material---)----- —we see the process of spinning fibre-glass and some of the products made from the finished fibre—

(2) "PEARL DIVING"—Toba, Japan—cuts 2763xl filed—aged Kokichi Mikimoto who is the "Pearl King" of Japan—oversees the operation of his lucrative industry—oysters are in special beds and are brought up by Japanese girls who can dive without masks and hold breath longer than the average male underwater—we see how the oyster shell is injected with pearl grain—after five years, the oyster has surrounded the irritating grain with layer upon layer to form the pearl—
